

Protect yourself. Trust your network to Maestro's intrusion prevention solutions.

Blue Coat and McAfee: A perfect match

Although each can work independently, put them together and you've got the ultimate in protection. Running McAfee's anti-virus software and Blue Coat's proxy server allows you to effectively keep Internet risks at bay.

This integrated solution will prevent inappropriate content from entering the network and sensitive information from leaving it. Protect your assets, maximize your employees' productivity and reduce your corporate liability simply and affordably.

Blue Coat's ProxySG 800 Series

The ProxySG 800 was designed to keep your good employees from doing bad things on the Internet. This system will allow you to inspect, control, and log Web application traffic as it enters or leaves your network. The system will filter users' Web browser requests and responses and provide visibility and control for today's Internet risks, including:

- Network resource abuse due to P2P file sharing, video streaming and other unsanctioned applications
- Viruses and spyware introduced via backdoors when using P2P, Web e-mail and instant messaging
- Legal liability and productivity loss due to Web surfing

McAfee's Anti-Virus Software

The No. 1 feature of McAfee's anti-virus software is its ability to block both known and unknown viruses, which means you'll be protected against any new virus threats. McAfee also offers a small- to medium-sized business security application that, in addition to its anti-virus software, includes:

- Unparalleled spyware that will protect your network against spyware, adware, dialers, keyloggers and backdoors
- Advanced e-mail content filtering that prevents inappropriate content from entering the network and sensitive information from leaving it
- Anti-spam and anti-phishing modules with streaming updates to ensure your protection is always up-to-date
- Web-filtering module, which prevents your employees from accessing Web sites known to host spyware and adware

4100 Perimeter Center Drive, Suite 245
Oklahoma City, OK 73112
www.maestroservices.com

For more information, please contact: 405.605.5625 or sales@maestroservices.com

